Sidewalk Sale days set

Hoopeston merchants will take their wares to the sidewalk this Friday and Saturday for annual Sidewalk Sale Days.

More than 10 merchants throughout Hoopeston are participating in the event, said organizer Robin Lawson.

Along with special sales on merchandise, on Saturday only, Countryside Mini Mall will have an outdoor booth with fresh produce, Lawson said.

Also, cars that are part of the Hoopeston Chamber of Commerce's Great Car Giveaway are expected to be on display downtown in the lot between Global Fashions and Rhonda's Baskets.

Tickets for the giveaway will also be on sale, Lawson said.

Chief wins suit against former employer

An Iroquois County judge has ruled Rossville police chief Paul Dewitt was illegally dismissed from his previous position and has ordered his former employer to pay up.

Dewitt, former chief at Sheldon, sued the village and former mayor Frank Davenport for back wages, vacation pay and expenses.

Following a bench trial June 6 and final arguments July 7, Judge Gordon Lustfeldt ruled last week that the village of Sheldon must pay Dewitt more than $1,000 in back wages from May 1993, $270 in moving expenses, more than $750 in vacation pay and more than $1,400 as the difference in pay between his position in Sheldon and that in Rossville.

According to reports, Lustfeldt did not grant requests that Dewitt be paid overtime or comp time for his work with the Drug Awareness Resistance Education (DARE) program in Sheldon or that Dewitt's name and reputation were injured due to his dismissal.

Police crack down on loiterers

Six people were charged with loitering in the 100 block of West Main Monday night.

Bo J. Edwards, 17, of 816 E. Seminary; Christopher L. Rutledge, 18, #30 Parkview Court; Kurtis Kochell, 19, of 820 E. Main; and three male juveniles were charged after they were told several times to leave the area, police said.

Barbara L. Everhart, 41, of 528 N. Fourth St., was ticketed for failure to yield at a marked intersection and operation of an uninsured motor vehicle following an accident at 7:46 p.m. Tuesday.

Police said Everhart, in a 1984 Ford, was southbound on North Fourth St. and went through the intersection at East Honeywell when she was struck by a 1994

Chevrolet driven by Robert S. Braden Jr., 815 W. Penn. Everhart and an unidentified passenger were treated and released from Hoopeston Community Memorial Hospital.

All were released on notices to appear.

Marie R. Sisk, 41, of 301 E. Washington, was arrested at 10:57 a.m. Wednesday, charged with theft.

Investigator Jim Goodrum said he saw Sisk take an item from the Dollar General Store at 226 E. Main.

Sisk was released on a notice to appear.

Police solved a theft reported on Aug. 5.

A bicycle stolen from outside the Lorraine Theatre was found Wednesday at the Midget Football field.

The owner was notified and claimed the bicycle.
